

Monday, November 05, 2007

EQUESTRIANS CAN RIDE AND STAY DRY AT FAIRGROUNDS

With the arrival of the rainy season, equestrians who want to ride and stay dry can saddle up at the Clatsop County Fairgrounds and Expo Center. The fairgrounds will open the arena for horseback riders between 6 and 9 p.m. on Wednesday from Nov. 7 through Feb. 27.

Cost is $5 per person per evening. Riders can bring horses or mules. Riders 17 and younger must wear a riding helmet.

During severe weather, call ahead to verify that the arena will be open. For more information, call the fairgrounds at 325-4600.